

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The guidance on this page is by no means comprehensive and must be read in conjunction with the Intellect Style Guide, which can be found here: <https://www.intellectbooks.com/journal-editors-and-contributors>.

AIMS AND SCOPE OF JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY CHINESE ART

The Journal of Contemporary Chinese Art (JCCA) is a scholarly forum for the presentation of new research into and critical debate on or concerned with the subject of contemporary Chinese art. While the journal addresses contemporary art produced by artists from mainland China since the late 1970s as a significant focus for research and critical debate, it also seeks to engage critically with the relationship between contemporary art and Chinese cultural identity against the background of present-day globalization and trans-nationalism. The journal therefore not only welcomes contributions that address contemporary art produced in mainland China as well as Hong Kong-Macau and Taiwan, but also in relation to diasporic and trans-national Chinese cultural communities world-wide. The journal also welcomes contributions that address the relationship between Chinese cultural thought and practice and contemporary art of non-Chinese origin.

The JCCA is conceived as a platform for the publication of high-quality writing in accordance with the established conventions of academic discourse. However, it does not limit itself solely to contributions from academic researchers. It is recognized that others working outside the Academy, including artists, curators and critics, have important insights into the nature and significance of contemporary Chinese art. Consequently, contributions to the JCCA from cultural practitioners and professionals working outside the Academy are strongly welcomed. There is also an understanding that while the JCCA seeks to uphold the highest academic standards in terms of editorial and peer-review, it should be open to innovative forms of presentation in support of differing interpretative perspectives. The JCCA's engagement with cultural institutions and cultural practitioners outside the Academy is intended not only as a means of supporting knowledge exchange but also the development of collaborative relationships between academics, artists and curators.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Intellect is committed to creating a diverse and inclusive space for the benefit of its authors, editors, staff and the wider academic community. For more information and resources, including our Inclusive Language Guide, Author Fund, Language Ambassadors and name-change policy, please consult our website: <https://www.intellectbooks.com/diversity>.

ILLUSTRATIONS

We welcome images illustrating an article. All images need a resolution of at least 300 dpi. All images should be supplied independently of the article, not embedded into the text itself. The files should be clearly labelled and an indication given as to where they should be placed in the text. Print reproduction will usually be in black and white, whereas images can be in full colour in the online version. The image should always be accompanied by a suitable caption (the omission of a caption is only acceptable if you feel that the impact of the image would be reduced by the provision of written context). The following is the agreed style for captions:

Please note the colon after the number and the terminating full point, even if the caption is not a full sentence. Copyright clearance should be indicated by the contributor and is always the responsibility of the contributor.

ALTERNATIVE TEXT

As part of Intellect's commitment to fairness and accessibility, we ask our contributors to provide descriptive text alternatives for all images, graphs, figures, etc. in your work. Useful guidelines can be found at the Diagram Center website and the Describing Visual Resources website. All Intellect journal content published from August 2023 onwards includes alternative text for all visual and audio material.

LANGUAGE

The journal follows standard British English. Please use 'ize' endings instead of 'ise'.

LANGUAGE EDITING WITH ENAGO

Intellect has partnered with language-editing service Enago to offer a trusted service for potential contributors who would like copy-editing and/or translation assistance prior to submitting their work for consideration. Enago offers two tiers of copy-editing: standard and substantive. All of their editors are native English speakers and every manuscript is matched to an editor with highly specialized subject-area expertise. As a contributor to an Intellect journal, you are eligible for a 20% discount on Enago's services: <https://www.enago.com/pub/intellectbooks/>.

LENGTH OF ARTICLES

Articles should be 6000–8000 words long and must not exceed 8000 words (including notes, references, author biography, keywords and abstract).

METADATA

Contributors must check that each of the following have been supplied correctly:

- Article title, or
- (for book reviews) Title of Publication, Author or Editor Name/s (ed./eds) (Year), Edition number if not first, City: Publisher, number of pages, ISBN 123-1-12345-123-1, h/bk or p/bk, price.
- Contributor name.
- Contributor addresses – the submitted material should include details of the full institutional postal address and a single e-mail address for each contributor for publication.
- Contributor biography – contributors should include a short biography of 50–100 words, specifying the institution with which they are affiliated.
- Contributor ORCID identifier. This must be supplied in the following format: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-1825-0097>. If you do not yet have an ORCID identifier, please register here: <https://orcid.org/register>.
- Abstract of 100–200 words (this will appear on Intellect's website)
- Keywords – six to eight words, or two-word phrases. There is a serious reduction in an article's ability to be searched for if the keywords are missing.
- References – Intellect requires the use of Harvard references embedded in the main text in the following format (Harper 1999: 27).
- Bibliography – titled 'References', containing only works that have been cited in-text. Any entries you wish to include that have not been cited directly should be limited and should appear in a second 'Further Reading' list. Format this list using the same conventions as for references.
- Funding statement, including funder name and grant number (if applicable).
- Ethical Statement and Conflict of Interest Statement.

NOTES

Endnotes may be used for comments and additional information only. In general, if something is worth saying, it is worth saying in the text itself. A note will divert the reader's attention away from your argument. If you think a note is necessary, make it as brief and to the point as possible. Use Microsoft Word's note-making facility and ensure that your notes are endnotes, not footnotes. Place note calls outside the punctuation, i.e. after the comma or the full stop. The note call must be in superscripted Arabic (<sup>1, 2, 3</sup>).

OPINION

The views expressed in this journal are those of the authors and do not necessarily coincide with those of the Editors or the Editorial or Advisory Boards.

TRANSLATION

Please include any Chinese terms and their translation in a Glossary at the end of the article and do not include any Chinese characters in the main text. Authors may include pinyin (italic) in the text body in a bracket for specific clarifications. Apart from a person's name, all pinyin should be italicized.

PERMISSIONS/COPYRIGHT/LIABILITY

Copyright clearance for non-original material included in the manuscript (e.g., images) should be indicated by the contributor and is always the responsibility of the contributor. The contributor publishing agreement, which also details which version of a contributor's own article remains their copyright, should be completed and sent to the editors to accompany every submission.

ETHICAL GUIDELINES

If your work involves live subjects (human or animal), you must seek written consent from the party or caregiver. All research involving animal subjects must have been reviewed and approved by an ethics committee prior to commencing the study and performed in accordance with relevant institutional and national guidelines and regulations. A statement identifying the institutional and/or licensing committee approving the experiments must be included in the Ethics Statement of the article, following the guidelines set out on our website: <https://www.intellectbooks.com/ethical-guidelines#human-animal-subjects>. You should also include any information here about workshops or interviews with vulnerable groups undertaken during research, photographed groups engaging in work relating to the research, etc. You must have written consent from all persons featured in images reproduced in your contribution.

PRESENTATION/HOUSE STYLE

All articles should be written in Word. The font should be Times New Roman, 12 point. The title of your article should be in bold at the beginning of the file, but not enclosed in quotation marks. Bold is also used for headings and subheadings (which should also be in Times New Roman, 12 point) in the article. Italics may be used (sparingly) to indicate key concepts.

Any matters concerning the format and presentation of articles not covered by the above notes should be addressed to the Editor.

QUOTATIONS

Intellect's style for quotations embedded into a paragraph is single quote marks, with double quote marks used for a second quotation contained within the first. All long quotations (over 40 words) should be 'displayed' – i.e. set into a separate indented paragraph with an additional one-line space above and below, and without quote marks at the beginning or end. Please note that for quotations within the text, the punctuation should follow the bracketed reference. For a displayed quotation the bracketed reference appears after the full stop. All omissions in a quotation are indicated thus: [...] Note that there are no spaces between the suspension points. When italics are used for emphasis within quotations, please ensure that you indicate whether the emphasis is from the original text or whether it is your own.

REFEREES

This is a peer-reviewed journal. Strict anonymity is accorded to both authors and referees.

REFERENCES

All citations in the text should be according to the Harvard system, e.g. (Bordwell 1989: 9). The default term used for this list is 'References'. The 'References' list should only contain works that have been directly cited in-text. Anything else should be included in a second 'Further Reading' list. Please do not group films together under a separate 'Films Cited' heading. Instead, incorporate all films alongside books, journals and papers, alphabetically by director. The same rule applies to music: identify the composer and list alphabetically. Television programmes are listed under the name of the programme and/or the episode title. Please note in particular:

- 'Anon.' for items for which you do not have an author (because all items must be referenced with an author within the text)
- A blank line is entered between references
- Year date of publication in brackets
- Commas, not full stops, between parts of each reference
- Absence of 'in' after the title of a chapter if the reference relates to an article in a journal or newspaper.
- Name of translator of a book within brackets after title and preceded by 'trans.', not 'transl.' or 'translated by'.
- Absence of 'no.' for the journal number, a colon between journal volume and number.
- 'pp.' before page extents.

The following samples indicate conventions for the most common types of reference:

- Anon. (1957), Narrative in Early Renaissance Art, Oxford: Books Press.

PERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS

Unless an informal conversation, interviews can be cited in text and included in the references. In the references, the name of interviewer/interviewee, type of communication, location, day and month should be included [if available].

Björgvinsson, Evan (2009), telephone interview with A. Høg Hansen, 23 January.

Branson, Richard (2014), in-person interview with J. Doe, Birmingham City University, 4 July.

WEBSITE REFERENCES

Website references are similar to other references.

There is no need to decipher any place of publication or a specific publisher, but the reference must have an author, and the author must be referenced Harvard-style within the text. Unlike paper references, however, web pages can change, so there needs to be a date of access as well as the full web reference. In the list of references at the end of your article, the item should read something like this:

Kermode, Mark (2017), 'Audience appreciation', Kermode Uncut, 17 November, <http://www.bbc.co.uk/blogs/markkermode/entries/61bec71c-916d-4a13-a782-79c3afb3c2b9>. Accessed 20 November 2017.

SUBMISSION PROCEDURES

Articles submitted to this journal should be original and not under consideration by any other publication. Contributions should be submitted electronically via the Intellect website. Please contact the journal's editor for further details.
